Product Profile & User References

Healthy Skin Shiny Coat is an all natural detoxifier that works with your dog's liver, kidneys and lymphatic system to eliminate toxins from the system

Because dogs don't perspire like humans do (through our skin) they have a hard time getting rid of accumulated toxins. A dull coat is often the first sign of this accumulation. And if you have a dog that is constantly itching, scratching and uncomfortable you're witnessing an outward manifestation of an internal problem. Healthy Skin Shiny Coat is a perfect complement for topical solutions like anti-itch shampoo's and conditioners.

Put a few drops in his mouth (if he'll let you) or on a treat or as a last resort in his water and the all natural formula goes straight to work. Over time you will see a reduction of skin problems, a decrease in itching and a general improvement in overall health.

The root of the problem

Modern processed food, poor feeding patterns and insufficient exercise are the primary causes of toxicity in a modern dogs system. (Not surprisingly these are the same reasons you and I accumulate toxins in our bodies)

This concentrated elixir was formulated exclusively for happytails by Robert McDowell, the world's leading authority on applying western herbal medicines to canine health problems.

An Optional Long-Term Health Plan

- * Start by giving your dog Health Skin Shiny Coat twice per day.
- * After a week, if your dog is eating kibble, change to a raw food diet. (a reputable pet store can point you in the right direction)
- * Make sure your dog is drinking plenty of water, to help flush out the toxins.
- * Exercise your dog at least twice per day.
- * If your dog's skin is irritated, use a skin healing cream (like bowWOW Butter Balm) which will protect and heal the damaged skin once the internal conditions are addressed.
- * If your dog's shampoo has harsh chemicals, change to Comfy Dog Oatmeal shampoo for Dry & Itchy skin.
- * As the dog's sparkle returns, you may reduce the dose to once per day or as needed.
